It is very little what I have still to say, and will not take much of your time. From the hills I went down into the plain to places I had often visited in former years. On my way to Kefr Saba (Antipatris?) I passed by Mejdel Taba (Mirabel), near which--between it and Mezraah--I had many years ago discovered that ruin, which was afterwards visited and photographed by Captain Wilson (No. 110), to whom I had pointed it out as most remarkable. Robinson had been very near it--half a mile perhaps--but then struck into a more west road. As to Kefr Saba, I am quite sure now that it does not represent Antipatris, which must be looked out for between Kalat Ras el Ain and the mills of El Mia, or perhaps in the depth of the Aujeh marshes at the foot of the castle hill. I shall another time give you my reasons for this opinion. Between Kefr Saba and the sea-coast--in a straight line--I found two khirbehs. The first, about one and a-half miles west of Kefr Saba, did not show forth any trace of antiquity; its name is Khirbet Sebyi. The other, Khirbet Tubsur, half a mile farther west, presented a curious relic--the only one visible above ground. It showed between broken remnants of walls what I must call two small...
