Around February 20th of this year, they told me to write this book. I was to write it quickly and to stay focused on two particular subjects. Two weeks into my writing I was told the deadline was the weekend of March 22nd, which I accomplished. They also said, We're almost out of time, and, There are millions who need to know what you're writing. I did what I was told. I wrote this book in one month. Uncommon? Not necessarily. I believe these types of things are happening all over our planet at this time. I am a product of Western civilization but seemed to have been set on a different path even as a young child. I preferred the company of adults and their serious conversations to that of my childhood peers and their play. I questioned what I was taught rather than accepting everything at face-value. When my teenage classmates were excitedly planning their careers, I chose the traditional path of housewife and mother, though I was far from being an ordinary wife and mother. Even though I was born after WWII, into a generation that enjoyed prosperity and endless possibilities, I preferred to live a life-style as my ancestors had. I knew also there was a presence in my life that was a constant, which I never feared, but felt instead a significant degree of safety and security. This presence seemed to nudge me towards making better decisions and helped me notice things I wouldn't have otherwise. I didn't think about them when I was young, just taking their constant presence for granted. They guided me; they taught me. They helped...
